Subject: Keep Our Bus Stops Safe petition

Dear all

In case you are not aware already, yesterday the Trust launched an online petition to protest about Transport for London's proposals for 'floating' bus stops on Westminster Bridge - on the grounds that this will be dangerous for vulnerable road users including older people, deaf and blind people, and parents with young children in buggies - many of whom will be getting off buses at Westminster Bridge to come to St Thomas' and the Evelina

A covering email with a link to the petition has been emailed to all patient and public Foundation Trust members who have provided us with their email addresses - see below

I am pulling together a comms plan to help promote the petition more widely both internally and externally

Peter Allanson (cc:ed), who is leading this work, is planning to have a hard copy petition available for signing at St Thomas' main reception desk and/or PALS -, I imagine he will be in touch with you to discuss

Thanks

Guy's and St Thomas' NHS Foundation Trust

Dear Member

The Trust is very concerned that Transport for London's plans for the cycle super highway and "floating" bus stops on Westminster Bridge are dangerous for pedestrians and cyclists. We have asked them to change their plans and are now asking for your support to persuade them how important this is.

So please sign our petition today and ask all your friends and contacts so that we can get as many signatures as possible. Just click on this link to the petition and follow the instructions.

Thank you
